

Clairitec
signs a global distribution agreement with Mouser Electronics

Specializing for more than 20 years in the creation of a complete solution allowing to quickly and easily develop HMIs (Human-Machine Interfaces) while controlling equipment thanks to the integrated management of several inputs/outputs, Clairitec announces the signature of a global distribution agreement with Mouser Electronics.

Mouser, the industry's leading New Product Introduction (NPI) distributor with the widest selection of semiconductors and electronic components, ships globally to over 600,000 customers in more than 220 countries and territories from its state-of-the-art global headquarters and distribution center.

Clairitec has the particularity of offering HMI products that connect directly to the main application of industrial manufacturers via a simple serial communication allowing to send display or I/O management commands. The HMI is created in a completely personalized way thanks to the GraphConverter PC software by dragging the elements on the various screens constituting the graphical interface (which can be tactile). Clairitec also adapts its products according to the needs of its customers, for example by adding vandal-resistant tempered glass for outdoor applications or by adding wireless communication modules (GSM, Bluetooth, Wi-Fi ...) for the growing market of the Internet of Things (IoT).

Through the agreement, Mouser now distributes Clairitec products, which provide ease of use, industrial robustness (EMC prequalification, automotive microprocessor) and commercial durability (10 years) in a world where obsolescence is increasing. Additionally, Clairitec is the only company offering off-the-shelf products directly compatible with the CAN communication protocol, which is increasingly used in the industry for its reliability.

"Mouser's power of distribution and strong brand awareness with electronics engineers will enable Clairitec to access new markets and grow further on the international stage. This partnership will help companies around the world accelerate the "time to market" of their new products by entrusting Clairitec with the graphic part of their project" says Thomas Debuisser, founder and CEO of Clairitec.
